Dear Ms. Linner:

We are furnishing you concurrently herewith a letter report responding to your letter of May 13, 1985. In answer to that letter and as part of our response, we are furnishing you with two maps showing detailed geological and other information concerning our properties.

The information shown on these two maps is the result of years of experience and our internal expert evaluation of information. The information is proprietary to Brush and is highly confidential.

While we are happy to provide the maps for your use, we do not wish to have maps and the proprietary information contained therein opened to the general public including our "would be" competitors.

Consequently we have marked the maps "Confidential". We hereby request that when the said maps are not being used by your authorized staff members that the same be enclosed in sealed envelopes marked "Confidential". Additionally we request that no one be allowed to make a copy or copies of either or both of said maps and that the maps not be allowed to be taken from your office premises.

We appreciate your cooperation in this request which will assure the proprietary and confidential nature of the information that we are furnishing.
